

Party Pants 4 persons Blue

Party Pants: fun and laughter guaranteed!

A hexathlon is not worthy of the name if a fun pants game is not included. Party Pants? I hear you say? Well, actually they are four pants sewn together to fit four people. The team has to try and cross the finish line as one as fast as they can. Not only an ideal game for a teambuilding event, but also a fantastic feature for a kids' party. It will definitely be a game that inspires hilarious battles and roars of laughter. Despite the team effort of all who are in this together, tumbling over is virtually inevitable. This means that having a soft surface to fall on is essential to prevent anyone from really getting hurt.

It is quick to set up, much quicker than reaching the finish line

The aim of the game is clear: the team that crosses the finishing line first, wins. Setting up the game is a very easy job, because JB-Inflatables conveniently supplies everything you need in a complete package, so you have everything you need to successfully include this fun party pants game in your hexathlon product range. To even add to the convenience we also include a transport bag.
